Of Interest to Alumni:

May 20, 2017 @ 6:00 p.m. - Camden Night Gardens RISE UP. Start the evening off with a Rutgers Alumni Cocktail Hour at Cooper River Distillery (34 Fourth St.) followed by a nighttime public arts festival in Roosevelt Park (City Hall). This serves as a great way to show your support of the city and the kickoff to Camden's summer. For more information visit www.camdennightgardens.com.

If you have an event that might be of interest to alumni, please email alumni@camden.rutgers.edu and we will review the information.

RUTGERS–CAMDEN NEWS

Meet the Rutgers–Camden "Finest" Alumni

In commemoration of the 250th anniversary in 2016, Rutgers–Camden inducted 21 exceptional alumni into the Rutgers–Camden Finest, an assembly of graduates whose lives and careers have made an indelible mark upon society and the advancement of knowledge. Every month we will introduce our alumni to several of the inductees. To learn more about all our finest, please visit here.

Game Changer
Offering future graduates a decided edge over their peers, the interdisciplinary Digital Studies Center offers both a joint bachelor of arts degree and a minor in digital studies. To learn more about this program, visit here.

Guggenheim Fellows
A testament to the world-class quality of the MFA program, two affiliated Rutgers–Camden faculty members - Patrick Rosal, an associate professor of English, and Gregory Pardlo, an assistant professor of English - have been named 2017 John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation Fellows for poetry. Read more about this honor here.

National Recognition for Antitrust Writing
Professor Michael Carrier and his student Carl Minniti have earned national recognition for their article about the misuse of “citizen petitions” by brand drug companies to delay approval of generic versions of certain drugs. Learn more about this recognition here.

More information about Rutgers–Camden can be found at news.camden.rutgers.edu.

RUAA CHARTER GROUPS
If you’ve been wanting to connect with Rutgers alumni who share your interests or live nearby, getting involved with an alumni group is a great way to do that. Alumni groups are chartered organizations run by dedicated alumni volunteers in affiliation with the RUAA. Learn more here.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES
Did you know that Rutgers–Camden alumni are eligible to use many resources offered through the Career Center. If you are considering a career change, feel uncertain of your future career plans, or seek to advance in your career, visit here to learn more.
